The Naples Garden Club™ presents Paula Pryke, London Floral designer and Business Woman Extraordinaire for two demonstrations and an entertaining and informative commentary on her world-wide adventures in the floral industry. You will not want to miss this special opportunity to learn a few of Paula's expert techniques at either the 10:30AM-11:30AM or the 2:30PM-4:00 PM floral demonstration on March 4, 2024 at Kapnick Hall, Naples Botanical Garden. Over the past 30 years, Paula's simple style has been favored by architects and designers including visionary architects Norman Foster and Zara Hadid and long-standing clients Chanel, Armani, and Sotheby's. Her contract and consultant work has taken her all over the world working with corporations in many industries including hotels, retail and wholesale suppliers, yacht and cruise-lines and event venues.

Paula has been a leader in the flower industry. With nothing more than the love of flowers and an ambition to have her own business Paula established a flower shop in Islington, London, England in 1988. From that modest ambition Paula has worked in all areas of floristry taking her to several continents most notably Europe, North America, and Asia. She has opened 9 shops in London and Birmingham, UK and one with the Samsung corporation in Seoul, Korea. Aside from retail Paula built a massive flower contract business, and an enviable events department.

Only three years after opening her first flower shop she was offered a publishing deal. Since then, Paula has published 18 books on floral art and is a world authority. These books have been translated into as many languages and have arguably made Paula the best-selling floristry author with Rizzoli in the US, publishing her for over 25 years. This has established Paula as the most well know female florist in the world. In June 2014 she was awarded an Officer of the British Empire (OBE) for her contribution to floral design in the UK revolutionizing the British Flower industry and for her impact and influence overseas. Tickets available through link on our website:
